LOCAL ONLINE MARKETING AGENCY HIRES ONLINE MARKETING DIRECTOR

AUGUST 2009

San Clemente, California - Local online marketing agency, Album Creative Studios, Inc. ("Album") has hired an Online Marketing Director to handle account management, online strategy and new business development.

Stephanie Hamilton has joined the team at Album. After receiving her marketing education from Arizona State University and UCLA, she worked for national media and communication companies like NBC, Primedia and Freedom Communications (O.C. Register).

Stephanie has over a decade of marketing and public relations experience. For the last five years her focus has been with online and interactive marketing. Some of her past accounts include, Unocal, Tenet Hospitals, Roex and Capitol Records.

"We are thrilled for our clients to have access to Stephanie's incredible insight and depth of experience," said Creative Director, Matt Parker. "She's hit the ground running and is making an immediate impact."

Stephanie's hire comes at a critical time. Despite the poor economic climate, Album is seeing its strongest year-to-date revenue in seven years of business.

"We credit this growth to the increased attention being given to effective online marketing tactics, like social media and search engine marketing," said Nathan Harris, Principal at Album. "Many businesses are looking for an agency like Album to help them define an online marketing strategy and maximize their budget."

About Album Creative Studios: An online marketing agency and brand consultancy agency, located in San Clemente, California, Album partners with businesses to grow their brands.
